GERMANS TRY TO SIDESTEP REPARATIONS

They Conjure Up All Manner Of Bogies For Pretexts

TO SEEK CHANGES

Pretend To Fear Bolshevists Will Rule If They Accept

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 6.—The Germans are busy finding pretexts for not complying with the Allies' demands. According to the Lokal Anzeiger, reservations will be made with regard to disarmament in East Prussia, which General von Seeckt, who is present at the Conference of Premiers at Berlin, declared as vital for Germany.

It is asserted that Polish demobilisation is a pretence, and that the Poles could in a single day's good march be in a position to bombard Berlin.

The Bolshevist bogey is also being resuscitated. According to the Freiheit, Communists in Bavaria are urging a revolution and the formation of a Soviet Government in alliance with Russia, against the Entente.

TRADE UNIONS ACT

Berlin, February 5.—The German Federation of Trade-Unions has issued a manifesto to the workers of the world, protesting against the Paris decisions as "reintroducing slavery into Europe."

The German State Premiers conferred with the Federal Government today on the subject of the Paris decisions.

Telegrams from Munich state that the Bavarian Government threatens a rupture of the Empire, if the Federal Government yields on the question of reparations.

PROGRAM GIVEN

Paris, February 5.—M. Loucheur, Minister of Devastated Regions and Reparations, has outlined his program before the Inter-Parliamentary Group of the Devastated Departments. The principal points are, according to the Echo de Paris:

(1). Publication of a list of prices based on a comparison of 1914 and present day values, and applicable to all departments. Maximum prices will be fixed by agreement with the Trade Unions. It is hoped thus to facilitate the application of the War Damages Act.

(2). Government grant of materials to inhabitants of the stricken areas, to the value of 400,000,000 francs.

(3). Local issue in the various departments and towns of special loans for the rehabilitation of different industries, e.g., sugar, metal, brewing and textile industries.

Berlin, February 5.—The French Ambassador today formally invited the German Foreign Minister to send delegates to the London Conference.

ADVOCATES CHANGES

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, February 5.—In the course of yesterday's debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the Paris agreement, M. Andre Tardieu, the ex-Minister, advocated amendment of the agreement.

M. Briand, replying, pointed out that the Versailles Treaty was only valid through the union of the Allies and that that union had been achieved at the recent conference and had found expression in the Paris agreement.

The Premier added that the satisfaction, which this agreement promised, gave France the most effective guarantees for the restoration of her finances.

In conclusion, M. Briand emphatically declared that if Germany attempted to evade her obligations, all the penalties would be firmly applied.

Paris, February 5.—So many deputies have given notice of questions in the debate on the Paris agreement in the Chamber that it is doubtful whether the debate can be concluded on Tuesday.

M. Andre Tardieu's attack on the decisions of the Paris Conference has a particular interest because he is one of the chief authors of the Treaty of Versailles. He has of course a paternal affection for his offspring which he defends indefatigably, courageously, ably.

At the same time, all whose business it is to apply the treaty which M. Millerand has described

Daughter Of "Tino" To Wed Crown Prince Of Rumania

The beautiful Princess Helene, eldest daughter of King Constantine of Greece, who is to wed Crown Prince Charles of Rumania. The royal engagement was officially announced recently. Charles, who is twenty-seven years old, was the center of a romance in 1918, when he married at Odessa, Mlle. Zizi Cambrino, daughter of a Rumanian general. The marriage was annulled by the Rumanian courts last year. This photograph of Princess Helene, who is twenty-four years old, is a most recent one and has just reached this country.

NATION TO UNITE IN FAMINE DRIVE

Assurances Of Support Received From All Quarters; Work Already Started

Dispatches from many parts of the republic, approving the National Famine Relief Drive, completion of the program for the Premier's reception on February 13 and announcement that some organisations are already well into their campaign programs, indicated yesterday that February 20 to 28 inclusive will mark an epochal period in China for mass action in emergencies.

The North China Union League School, which is engaged in its third campaign for funds, reported yesterday that its students had given $3,000. The first two gifts were also substantial and the last effort has made personal sacrifice necessary to many of the students.

Nows that the campaign plans were taking definite form in all sections, was received enthusiastically at the regular meeting of the Peking Missionary Association Thursday night in the Y.M.C.A. Rev. Father Mullins who has been one of the most active workers in the famine crisis said the organisation had been so perfected that creeds and political opinions had been entirely laid aside and that all were moving toward the same goal, maximum relief.

He urged the same unselfish spirit be adopted by all who give to the relief fund. Miss Theresa Severin, of the Y.W.C.A. who accompanied Miss Sara B. Wrenn representing the Philadelphia Ledger, on a tour of the West Chihli area, described conditions. D. W. Edwards, executive secretary of the United International Famine Relief Committee, spoke of the organisation and work of the committee and said its staff efficiency was not excelled anywhere in China despite the fact that all the relief organisations are marked by efficiency and hard work.

Civil and military officials in the province are telegraphing their approval of the drive and saying that they will do their part in the active work. Dispatches have already been received from the Civil Governor of Anhwei; Tsao Kun, military and Tsao Jui civil governor of Chihli; the military and civil governors of Honan, Hunan and Hupeh.

JAPAN PRESENTS 'FRIENDLY' OFFER IN HUNCHUN CASE

Want Permit To Place More "Police" As Token Of Sincerity

CAN'T SEE RECIPROCITY

Their Losses Not To Be Settled On That Basis, They Tell Peking

Peking, February 3.—The Government has received a telegram from Mr. Hu Wei-teh, Chinese Minister to Japan, stating that since Minister Obata had communicated his note to the Government in Peking regarding the Hunchun Affair he has suspended formal negotiations with the Tokio Government. As a Commission for the Investigation of the Hunchun Case has been organised by the Government, Minister Hu asks what decisions the Government has arrived at and requests the latter to inform him of the same, so he may know how to deal with the Japanese Government in the future when he has to do so.

In connection with the Hunchun Affair it is reported in diplomatic circles that as the Chinese Government is urging the Japanese authorities to come to an early settlement of the case the Tokio Government has instructed Mr. Obata to present the following desiderata to the Chinese Government previous to opening of formal negotiations: (1) That the Chinese Government should show its sincerity in settling the case in a friendly spirit by allowing Japan to station her own police in Yenchi, Hunchun and Wangtsing for the protection of the Japanese residents; (2) that adequate Chinese troops should be stationed in the aforesaid place permanently and shall not be withdrawn or transferred to any other place; (3) that the payment of compensation for the losses sustained by the Japanese in the incident should not be done on a reciprocal basis.

German Tactics Change Suddenly

They Become Friendly Toward French Colonial Troops Of Occupation

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, February 6.—After long encouraging the campaign against the French black troops in the zone of Allied Occupation, the German Government now issues a warning against the statements published by the German Peoples League of Munich, which include stories as terrifying as they are false. The Berliner Tageblatt itself asserts that such exaggerations are calculated to detract from German propaganda.

Russia Marks Time In Trade Parleys

Moscow Note Sees No Insurmountable Difficulties In Way Of Agreement

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 6.—"Marking time" epitomises Tchitcherin's note to Lord Curzon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, acknowledging receipt of the draft trade agreement.

According to a Moscow telegram, the Soviet Government notes with pleasure that as regards general conditions, no divergencies of view exist which are incapable of settlement between Krassin and the departments of the British Government concerned; but the preamble, it says, is ambiguously worded, necessitating "exhaustive discussion."

Then follows a catalogue of denials of Britain's accusations as regards Soviet activity in Persia, Asia Minor, Bukhara and Afghanistan. It counter-accuses the Entente of irreconcilable hostility in Persia, the Caucasus, Asia Minor, the Black Sea and Poland.

REDS ASSEMBLE TROOPS; WAR ON JAPAN DEBATED

Much Speculation Over The Plans Of Russians For Next Spring

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, Feb. 5.—The actual situation in Transbaikalia remains extremely obscure as both Right and Left press reports are tainted by propaganda, and refugees arriving from that region give conflicting accounts.

There is one point however upon which all seem to agree and that is the concentration of Red troops in the Maritime Provinces and Transbaikalia.

It is true that Red sources do not try to explain this concentration and constantly accuse the reactionaries of false and provocative interpretation, but they certainly do not deny the fact.

Consequently, speculation continues to be rife upon the possibilities of war in the spring. The prevailing opinion is that the Reds do not believe in the possibility of a victory over the Japanese armies, but are convinced that if an armed conflict arises they will receive sufficient help from the extreme elements in Japan and from those among the Chinese who are ready to support any movement which has as its aim the weakening of Japan.

HOPE FOR UNIFICATION

Besides, it is believed that the Reds hope to attain a unification of all political elements by involving them in a war with a foreign Power and thereby awakening their patriotic sentiments, as has been done in the past.

Although certain military elements do not lose hope of starting a new anti-Red military campaign it is widely held that no such enterprise can succeed, firstly, because it would be extremely difficult to find a sufficient number of men willing to fight, and secondly because there is no agreement amongst the Right element as to who should lead such a movement. Consequently, it is believed that if a war arises, it will not be provoked by the anti-Red elements

In the light of these probabilities much importance is attached to the decisions of the Constituent Assembly at Chita. The fact that Moscow has instructed Chita to adopt a more democratic form of Government, that the Constituent Assembly is not totally composed of communists, and that the Chita Government has recently issued a pacific declaration, seem to offer some hopes of peace.

TREACHERY FEARED

On the other hand, no reliance can be placed upon Moscow's professed intentions. Many, of the non-Socialistic members of the Chita Assembly are not attending, through fear of treachery. Lastly, the Red Army is indubitably concentrating in the East. These facts seem to point to trouble in the Spring.

As the Chinese Eastern Railway Administration has taken all necessary measures to prevent the spreading of the plague, it is hoped that the one case registered in Harbin will be the last here. The last train from the West arrived here today.

Both Buffer and Soviet bank notes have lost all value and are hardly accepted in exchange for goods. Employees and workmen have declined to accept these notes and have requested that their salaries should be paid in food supplies. The problem is most difficult, as all means to stabilise the exchange already tried have failed. The output of the silver and gold mines is far too limited to furnish a supply which could guarantee any new issue.

Senator Moves For Aeroplane Carriers

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, February 5.—In the Senate today Senator Gerry introduced an amendment to the Naval Appropriation Bill providing for the construction of four fast aeroplane carriers, the cost not to exceed $24,000,000 each.

Senator Lodge read a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Houston, in which the latter announced that he would not proceed with any further negotiations with foreign governments during his term of office. The letter then proceeded to describe Great Britain's arrangements for repayment of her debt, the details of which are already known.

British Debt Offer "News" In America

Chamberlain's Statement Creates Flurry In U.S. Government Circles

(Reuter's Service)

New York, February 6.—The statement of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Austen Chamberlain, regarding the rejection two years ago of proposals for payment of the British debt to the United States, has created a sensation in Washington and evoked criticism of the Government for concealing information on the subject.

State Treasury officials decline any comment, but intimate that the proposal may have been made unofficially, and that if so it was not regarded seriously.

Germans Shy At London Meeting

Waiting For Harding's Inauguration, Says French Journal

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, February 6.—The Petit Parisien learns from Berlin that the German Government is manifesting no eagerness to accept the invitation to the London Conference. On the contrary, its present tactics consist in temporising, with the idea of waiting until President Harding, has assumed office and peace between the United States and Germany has been ratified. In addition the German Government desires that the result of the plebiscite in Upper Silesia should be known before negotiations with the Allies are opened, in order that the negotiators may be able to discuss concrete facts.

Royalists Forming New Greek Cabinet

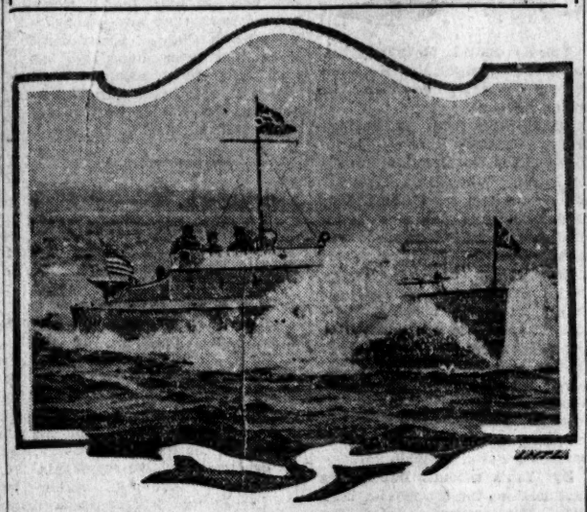
(Reuter's Service)

Athens, February 6.—The Royalist, M. Callogeropoulos, is forming a Cabinet in which he is including members of the late Cabinet, and also M. Theotokis, former Minister at Berlin.

M. Callogeropoulos has asserted that he is friendly toward the Entente, but has declared the presence of M. Venizelos at the London Conference in any capacity inadmissible.

Athens, February 5.—The Premier, M. Rhallys, announced in the National Assembly that the resignation of the Cabinet was due to differences chiefly on the question of the constitution of the Greek delegation to the forthcoming London Conference (when the revision of the Treaty of Sevres will be discussed).

First Of "Sea Hornets" Launched For Navy



The first of the new naval auxiliary craft known as "sea hornets," which, in times of peace, may be carried on battleships as service launches and in time of war converted in a few moments into torpedo boats, was launched recently at City Island, New York. The vessel is known as the "type A-3 sea hornet" and is expected to form an important part of the nation's coast defense. The craft was conceived during the war and was held as a navy secret, its operation being prevented by the armistice. It is a twin screw, 600-horsepower motor boat, 58 feet in length, with a hinge bow which drops from place. In the bow is a tube for a 21-inch torpedo, carrying in its warhead 600 pounds of high explosive. Two additional torpedoes and depth bombs may be carried. The "sea hornets" in time of war will operate in squadrons or "swarms," their size and low visibility making them comparatively safe from attack by an enemy craft. Each "hornet" will carry a crew of four.

BANK IS ENJOINED FROM PAYING OUT OF CANTON FUNDS

Court Grants Application Regarding Account Of Dr. Wu

There was another development yesterday in the proceedings which have arisen regarding the government funds held here by Dr. Wu Ting-fang when the British Supreme Court granted an interim injunction restraining the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation from making any disposal of the monies pending the outcome of an action in the Shanghai City Court.

An injunction which was granted by the Mixed Court last April was suspended and an action brought by Chang Shih-chao, representing the Southern Military Government, was dismissed in the Mixed Court two weeks ago. The amount involved in the case was $2,600,000.

The injunction was applied for yesterday by Mr. R. N. MacLeod on behalf of the Government of the Republic of China.

APPEARS FOR GOVERNMENT

Mr. MacLeod said he appeared on behalf of the plaintiffs in this action in which the claim endorsed on the writ was one for an injunction to restrain the defendant bank from parting with certain monies described as monies standing in the name of Dr. Wu Ting-fang and being part of Government funds of the Republic of China. This was a motion for an order that the bank, its directors, agents and servants be restrained from parting with these monies until after judgment had been given in an action commenced. The application was made ex parte but he had informed the bank in case they cared to instruct counsel to appear. He had also informed them he would ask for an injunction until return day because it seemed to him that was quite sufficient and then they would have an opportunity of saying anything they wished to say. The application was supported by an affidavit.

Judge Skinner Turner commented that the point was that another action had already been commenced in another court and said he took it that the fund was the same as the one he had dealt with before, when an injunction was granted pending an action in the Mixed Court.

SUIT IN CITY COURT

Mr. MacLeod replied that the injunction in the Supreme Court came to an end with the rendering of judgment in the Mixed Court. The next suggestion was that the Government should proceed against Dr. Wu in the Supreme Court in Peking. The government, however, had been advised that the proper Chinese court was the City Court here and that court had accepted jurisdiction. On the face of that and until something was said against it, it seemed to him that he was quite entitled to an interim in-

CHINESE "Y" TO ERECT BUILDING IN FRENCHTOWN

Branch Y.M.C.A. Will Be At Ave. Edward VII And Boulevard de Montigny

The Chinese Young Men's Christian Association has just completed the purchase of a site for a branch building located in the French Concession on Boulevard de Montigny near the corner of Avenue Edward VII. This avenue together with its extension, Thibet Road, is the broadest north and south street in Shanghai. The lot is close to the intersection of tram lines that reach out into the western, southern and eastern districts where there is a population of a half million people. It has a frontage of 140 feet on the Boulevard and runs through to Rue de Polikao.

For some time the Szechuen Road buildings have proved inadequate for the demands of an Association which now has 4,000 members and this past year had an enrolment of 2,115 students in day and evening classes. The present Association building on Szechuen Road is quite convenient for members living in the central and northern districts. The new building will accommodate the young men of the western and southern sections of the city. The purchase has been made possible by the recent sale of a property on Hongkong Road, the money for which was secured by public subscription.

The "Y" expects to erect a building on the new site that will be modern in every particular. There has been much progress in the work of the Association since the erection of the men's building in the year 1907 and the present demands are for larger and better accommodations. It will include facilities for the all-round work of the organisation including offices, lobby, library, educational class rooms, gymnasium, swimming pool, bowling alleys, dining rooms, roof gardens, etc. In addition there will be large provision made for dormitory accommodations, which are in great demand at the present time.

The Y.M.C.A. has a program that fits into the needs of a city in China and in its 21 years in Shanghai has secured a strong interest on the part of the leading Chinese of the community. It accommodates many young men on small salary who are getting a first start in this city. In addition to privileges offered in the building the Association carries on an extensive service program in the community. The most recent extension is a "Red Triangle Hut" a matshed offering entertainment and popular educational features for a region where 17,000 employes are engaged in modern industrial plants.

The directors of the Shanghai Association hope in time to erect several branch buildings in various sections of the city for the need for the "Y" program in all parts was never more apparent than now.

LLOYD GEORGE DOUBTFUL OF GERMAN AIMS

Can't Decide Whether They Are Honest, He Says

FEARS 1914 SPIRIT

Revival Of Trade Depends On Exchange Stablisation

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 5.—Great interest attaches to two important speeches delivered by Mr. Lloyd George at Birmingham today, the first being devoted to the Paris Conference reparations decisions, and the second to domestic problems.

The first speech was the Prime Minister's reply to the presentation of the freedom of the City of Birmingham, at the Town Hall. Mr. Lloyd George began by humorously recalling that he had once been accorded an even warmer reception at Birmingham Town Hall than on the present occasion. This referred to the occasion during the Boer War when Mr. Lloyd George escaped from a hostile meeting by a back-door disguised in a policeman's uniform.

Mr. Lloyd George went on to remark that he had then differed from Birmingham's most distinguished citizen, but he was now in complete accord with Joseph Chamberlain's distinguished son. The Prime Minister then dealt with the results of the Paris Conference.

THE CONFERENCE

The Conference, he said, had completely agreed on tremendous issues in a week. It had realised the impossibility of restoring peace in the world until normal conditions had been restored in Central Europe. The first essential to that was the restoration of real peace, which depended on respect for the peace treaties.

Germany's war-machine must be broken beyond repair, he said. Germany had already surrendered 31,000 guns, 33,000,000 shells, 70,000 machine-guns, 3,000,000 rifles and 411,000,000 cartridges. The conference at Spa had accelerated disarmament, but the process must be completed. Germany still had too much war-material and munition-making machinery, and too many irregular combinations of trained men.

The Prime Minister then dwelt on the difficulties of making Germany pay reparations without harming the payees, for instance, cheap goods causing unemployment, and problems of exchange which would become acute immediately Germany were to try to pay outside Germany.

ON REPARATIONS

The 'bill' presented last week, continued Mr. Lloyd George, was based on consideration for Germany's difficulties, but Germany did not like it. It started with a minimum, the annuities for the first two years being less than the annual pensions in France or Great Britain. It increased proportionately with Germany's prosperity.

"If a great, intelligent and industrious people can get their minds off the war to peace, they will become prosperous, and they can and must pay," declared the Prime Minister. Dr. von Simons' speech in the Reichstag, he said, was based on misconceptions which could be cleared up in London, but Dr. von Simons, of all things in the world, complained that Germany had not received the full bill. "It is ready. He will not like it if he gets it. I advise him to take the Paris bill."

Referring to the Reichstag's applause of Dr. von Simons' speech, Mr. Lloyd George recalled its applause of the 'scrap of paper' utterance. He begged Germany not to be misled by momentary passion into repeating the follies of 1914.

IS ABLE TO PAY

Pointing out that Germany was not yet taxed equally with France or Great Britain, the Prime Minister exclaimed: "We cannot allow the country which inflicted the damage to escape with lighter taxation than the victims. Our claim is righteous, we must enforce it."

It was purely a question of goodwill on Germany's part, Mr. Lloyd George went on. If alternative proposals were submitted, they would meet with fair consideration, but a mere attempt to evade payment could not be tolerated.

Dr. von Simons had impressed him at Spa as high-minded, sincere and reasonable, Mr. Lloyd George said, but even at Spa, he (Mr. Lloyd George) had had an uneasy feeling that the men of 1914 were behind Dr. von Simons. The forthcoming conference in London would show whether the men of 1914 were biding their time and still represented Germany. Nothing, he affirmed, would induce the Allied peoples to take strong action except the feeling that they were confronted with 1914 Germany.

Mr. Lloyd George was accorded an ovation as he passed through the streets in procession with the Corporation to and from the Town Hall.

SECOND SPEECH

In his second speech, delivered at a banquet in his honor, the Prime Minister dealt mainly with domestic affairs. Trade was depressed, he admitted, but he did not doubt that we would weather the storm as we had done after the Napoleonic Wars.

The nation was simply going through the inevitable difficulties after a great war.

Some people blamed the Government, but what use was that, he asked. "If you change the Government, you do not change the facts." The collapse of trade came with appalling suddenness and every nation was suffering from it. The exchanges could not be trusted. It was like playing billiards on a liner in a gale.' "The first necessity for the restoration of international trade is stabilisation of the exchanges," declared the Prime Minister, "and that will not be secured until the indemnity has been fixed. I have an uneasy suspicion that Germany is not trying to stabilise her money. I rather think the mark is a little shabbier than it ought to be and that if it wished, it could come into court with a little more polish." . . . . (next passage mutilated in transmission).

In conclusion, the Prime Minister appealed for unity. "Let us stand together," he urged. "Let Capital and Labor stand together. Let us pull together, until we win through."

Canton Railroad Director Refuses To Surrender Post

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Feb. 1 (by mail).—Mr. Lau Woon, acting Managing-Director of the Canton-Samshui Railroad, has refused to surrender his office and the seal of the company to Mr. Hsu Chung-hao, the newly-appointed managing-director, on the ground that the appointment by the Ministry of Communications of the Military Government was made only on the recommendation of a few members of the Board of Directors.

Hsu's supporters however, argued that the appointment was recommended at a regular meeting of the Board, and that as long as there was a quorum for the meeting, the approval of the absent members was unnecessary.

It seems the meeting was a regular one but no attempt was made by the interested majority to acquaint all the members of the meeting before it was held.

The Canton Government, headed by General Chen Chiung-ming, is supporting Mr. Lau Woon, while the Military Government, through its Ministry of Communications, is in favor of Mr. Hsu.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greenberg at 287 Broadway and dancing was enjoyed. The young couple are spending their honeymoon at Hangchow.

Rubber Qualifies As Paving Material

(Reuter's Service)

London, February 6.—It is stated that recent experiments in paving a street in the borough with rubber sheets have proved satisfactory.

It is suggested that Westminster City Council should adopt a similar scheme for deadening sounds in the neighborhood of Charing Cross Hospital.

The idea is that the scheme, if successful, might be extended to all streets in the proximity of hospitals.

It is stated that although the initial cost is roughly double, rubber blocks long outlast wooden ones.

WHEAT PRICES DROP

London, February 5.—Wheat was quoted at seventy-five shillings per quarter at Northampton today, compared with ninety a week ago.

Smiles from the Mixed Court

Yau Kyi-fong is an ingrate and also a hoodlum of the Keystone comedy variety, according to Dzung Kyi-pau.

Dzung deals them off the forearm in a Foochow Road rice parlor to which Yau repaired last Sunday for lunch. When Dzung had filled his bowl Yau urged him to be a good fellow and add a little for good measure. Being generous by nature and imbued with the mellow spirit of New Year's, Dzung said, he acquiesced and slapped on another heaping spoonful. The customer requested him to do it again.

Dzung felt that this was pushing things a little too far and refused. Whereupon Yau snatched up the bowl and slammed it with a resounding smack into the midst of Dzung's facial geography.

By Yau's account Dzung has qualifications for the movies himself. The accused denied the assault but agreed that the cuts on his accuser's countenance were inflicted by the rice bowl. They were attained, he said, when Dzung, by some weird feat of gymnastics succeeded in falling upon it.

The Court ordered Yau to pay $5 for breaking the peace and $2 to Dzung for smashing his features.

ANOTHER FOODSHOP AFFAIR

Another foodshop argument occurred in the establishment of Wong Ah-kung on East Kashing Road. The tale is told by Wong Ah-tsiang, who declares that names to the contrary notwithstanding his ancestors were a very different and much higher type of family than those of the restaurant keeper.

The complaining Wong stated that he went into the beanery and nominated his refreshment, throwing three coppers upon the table as called for by the price list. He waited ten, fifteen, twenty minutes. No food. Then he sent for the manager and asked him what sort of a place was this, a cafeteria, or what?

The restaurant keeper responded by picking up a stool and spoiling it against the side of witness' head. When he was able, Wong said, he called a policeman and had the other Wong arrested.

The defendant told the Magistrate that the reason for the delay in serving the complainant's order was that he had come in so late the food was all cold and had to be warmed. He had tried to explain this to his guest but that party had gone irately out to get a cop and had somehow bruised his head en route.

Wong's lunchery will be under a less athletic management for five days.

French Government Honors Fr. Froc, Meteorologist Here

Legion Of Honor Awarded To Jesuit, Former Director Of Observatory

A telegram has been received by the French Legation in Peking announcing that Father A. Froc, former director of the Siccawei Observatory, Shanghai, and Professor of Astronomy at Aurora University has been decorated by the French Government with the Croix de la Legion d' Honneur.

Father Froc is one of the leading meteorologists in China and has perhaps done more for his line of work than any other living man in China. Alway courteous and entertaining, he has won for himself a host of friends who will rejoice in the distinction that the French Government has conferred on him.

Germans Organise To Resist Payment

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, February 6.—Resistance to the Allied claims is being widely organised in Germany. The Premiers of the various German States have assembled in Berlin, and, at a conference under the presidency of Herr Elbert, they have agreed to uphold the standpoint of the Imperial Government.

A conference of 200 representatives of trade unions has gathered in Berlin and passed a resolution to a similar effect. Meetings are also being held in the Provinces, to protest against "the enslavement of the German workman for the benefit of the Allies."

France And Poland To Work In Harmony

Premier Briand Tells Of Declaration Drafted By Two Governments

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, February 6.—The Premier, M. Briand, yesterday received the British, Italian and Japanese Ambassadors and presented them with the following communication:

"On the occasion of the Polish President's visit to France, the French and Polish Governments have jointly drafted the following declaration:

"The Governments of France and Poland, equally anxious to safeguard their security and the peace of Europe, have once more recognised the community of interest which unites these two friendly countries. They are in agreement to affirm their intention of co-ordinating their interests and, to this end, maintaining a close connection for the sake of these high interests."

House Beats Veto On Army Measure

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, February 5.—The joint resolution of Congress to stop recruiting until the army has been reduced to a total strength of 175,000 was today re-passed by the House of Representatives over the President's veto.

President Wilson, in giving his reasons for vetoing it, stated that he was unable to see either in the condition of the world generally or in the needs of the United States, any change which justified restriction of the minimum enlisted strength fixed at 280,000 by the Army Reorganisation Bill.

Mixed Court Jottings

There will be no session of the Mixed Court until Saturday.

Twenty-two Chinese arrested in a gambling raid made upon premises at 1497 Woosung Road at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning appeared in the Mixed Court in the afternoon when the proprietor of the place was ordered to pay a fine of $30 or go to jail for a month. The rest were fined $3 each.

Early yesterday morning a number of men armed with knives robbed a house at 1047 Rangoon Road, taking away a quantity of cigars and household property. The inmates raised an alarm and a Chinese police sergeant arrested two of the robbers as they were fleeing. Information secured from these led to the arrest of four others. They were charged yesterday in the Mixed Court and the case was remanded for a week.

The proprietor of an opium den at 791 Hawkoe Road was fined $30, with the alternative of a month's imprisonment.

A Chinese engineer named Wing Fong-yang was fined $15 yesterday for attacking a tram inspector. The inspector, a Korean, said that he had asked the defendant to show his ticket and was told that it had been thrown away. The defendant and another Chinese, an American citizen, then attacked him. The accused denied the assault and said that he was leaving the tram when the inspector stopped him and would not let him alight.

Bandits Attack Cars, Two Wounded

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, February 6.—A motor-car conveying two Russians and two Chinese, all of whom were wounded, arrived at Kalgan on Friday. Of the Russians, one, named Haner, has since died, while the other, Blabounoff by name, remains at Kalgan in a serious condition. One Chinese was slightly wounded, and the other, who is a representative of the Yu Sheng-ho firm, has a badly frozen hand, which requires amputation.

It appears that two cars left Urga and were attacked 50 miles from that place. One car ran through the rifle-fire, but the fate of the other is unknown. The latter contained a number of Russians, named Bom, Glasunoff, Haskin, Murkson, Stefel and Zuckerman. The survivors state that their assailants were Chinese tufeis.

In The U. S. Court For China

N. Ernest Neuwirt, Plaintiff v. ds Ltd., Inc. Defendant.
Cause No. 1266, Judgment. d February 7, 1921.

SYLLABUS

1.—Sales: Delivery: A vendee o accepts drafts drawn for the chase price of the goods, ains an extension thereof, and ses reshipment to another nt than that fixed in the ginal contract, is not excused. m acceptance by the mere fact t the bank holding the drafts ed to tender the bills of ing, he never having inquired refor.

2.—Id.: Resale: Where the ndee fails either to accept or the vendor may resell and d the vendee for the difference tween the purchase price and t realised from the resale.

3.—Pleading: Waiver. Where pleading by such vendor fails to ow whether the action is ought for such a difference or on the original contract, the de- t is waived if no objection is de by motion or to the in- duction of evidence.

4.—Ld.: Set-off. Is permissible ainst a foreign plaintiff only to extent of his claim.

Messrs. Rodger and [illegible] for Haskell for plaintiff; Ferno J. huhl, Esquire, for defendant.

BINGIER J.

This is an action on a pro- ssory note on which defendant mits liability but pleads a set- in a much larger amount for rchandise of the same char- er as that for which the note s given and alleged to have n sold by the defendant's as- nor and predecessor to plain- but not paid for. Plaintiff mits that he ordered this mer- andise, for shipment to angchun, under date of vember 7, 1918, and that on cember 19 he accepted a ies of drafts for the purchase ce which, a month later he quested an extension of by egram (Ex. E) in order, as stated, to have the cargo re- pped to Harbin and that sub- quently he saw merchandise ere which he "surmised" was it in question, but that he did t inquire at the bank for the l of Lading. But having ac- pted the drafts, obtained an tension thereon and requested e forwarding of the goods to rbin we think it was his duty follow up the transaction and ke delivery, and that his lure is not excused by the re fact that the bank which ld the drafts did not tender m the bill of lading which he mits would have been shown to n on request

It appears that some time terward, learning that plain- f had not taken possession of e merchandise, defendant's as- nor resold to another and edited plaintiff with the pro- eds. Defendant's manager testi- d that this was done under a rbal agreement with plaintiff ich the latter denies. But re- rdless of any agreement the ndor is entitled to "resell the goods if the origin- al buyer refused without jus- tifiable cause to receive and pay for them, and may re- cover the loss sustained in the difference between the con- tract price and the price re- ceived on resale."

On the other hand, it would not prevent recovering the purchase price if there were no rescission and this vendor were a trespasser in reselling; it would merely en- able the vendee to set off any damages he might have incurred from the trespass and nothing of the sort is pleaded here for the reply is only a general denial.

It is true that the answer does not specifically allege whether the vendor elected to rescind and claim damages for non-acceptance or whether it seeks merely to re- cover the purchase price. But no motion to elect or specify was filed and the evidence of resale was ad- mitted without objection.

It is also alleged that there were other transactions between plaintiff and defendant's assignor subsequent to that in controversy but it is not claimed that plaintiff was ever formally released from his acceptance of the drafts which is after all the act which finally fixed his liability for the goods.

On the whole evidence, without estimating the exact amount due defendant by reason of this trans- action, we must find that it fully equals the amount of the note sued on and plaintiff being a Rumanian subject, defendant; would not be entitled to a judg- ment against him but only to the cancellation of his claim.

It is therefore considered and adjudged that plaintiff take nothing by his complaint and that neither party recover costs.

By the Court,
CHARLES, S. LOBINGIER,
Judge.

Bank Is Enjoined From Paying Out Of Canton Funds

junction until return day, when the Bank would be heard.

The Judge stated that it seemed to him the position was exactly the same as it was when the pre- vious application was heard. The monies were still subject to liti- gation. Previously counsel had said the Mixed Court was the competent court.

Mr. MacLeod agreed and said that the difference now was that the Central Government is the plaintiff, whereas the plaintiff before was the Canton Military Government. It would seem im- possible to conceal the fact that Dr. Wu is now of the Canton party. He had more or less taken up that position.

The Judge said he thought the application was a right one and that an interim injunction should be granted until return day—next Monday.

as "bigger with promises than with realities," find they have to cope with a text full of contradic- tions; thus, while Germany's total responsibility is proclaimed, it is immediately subordinated to her capacity to pay, and again, while France's absolute right to indem- nity is affirmed, it is in the same breath surrendered to a Repara- tions Commission, on which France only possesses one vote out of five. Such at least is the view taken in French diplomatic circles.

And whatever is done by the Premier, be his name Millerand, Leygues or Briand, to unravel the tangled skeins, calls forth the in- evitable rejoinder from M. Tardieu, speaking for the negotia- tors of 1919 "that is not what we intended."

To which the Premier, and Par- liament with him, retort—"Never- theless, it is your handiwork."

Thus there was a touch of bit- terness perceptible in M. Briand's reply to M. Tardieu yesterday. M. Tardieu's criticism might be sum- marised in one sentence, "You were wrong to conclude, you should have waited." "Wait?" retorted the Premier, "how long? One month, two months, three months, six months? Do you not think the country has waited long enough?" And the whole Cham- ber thundered applause.

Still it is an odd paradox that one of the authors of the Treaty of Versailles should be complaining that the Allies want to put it into execution, while, M. Briand, whom his adversaries depict as hesitating before the final plunge, is com- pelled to offer a defense of his having taken a conclusive decision.

Pilsudski Puts In Busy Day In Paris

Has Conferences With Bourgeois, The President, And Military Men

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, February 5.—Marshal Pilsudski had a busy day yester- day. He first received M. Leon Bourgeois, whom he assured that Vilna would be evacuated by Gen- eral Zeligowski as soon as the dates of the plebiscite and of the arrival of the International Con- tingent had been fixed.

Next, the Marshal called at the Elysee where he had a long con- versation with the President of the republic. In the afternoon, he visited the Polish Library where he was received by M. Michiewicz, and later had an inter- view with General Weygand and M. de Panafieu.

Finally, in the evening, Marshal Pilsudski gave a banquet, followed by a reception, in honor of the President of the Republic.

The Petit Parisien understands that the Polish Foreign Minister, Prince Sapieha, will stay on in Paris after Marshal Pilsudski has left, to continue the negotiations for a Franco-Polish Commercial Treaty, The journal prophesies as the outcome "auspicious results for the future of Poland and the peace of Europe."

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, February 6.—The visit of Marshal Pilsudski, the Pre- sident of Poland, to Paris is be- ing made a great international event. The Marshal has been greatly feted, and has held intimate conferences with the French political and military leaders.

It is understood that France has agreed to continue the supply of instructors and war material to Poland, in order to uphold the barrier between Russia and Ger- many.

An official statement has now been issued, embodying the resolve of the two Governments to safeguard peace in Europe, to maintain the close friendship be- tween them, and to defend the high interests involved.

Germany Bids For Peace With America

CANTON TIMES IS ORDERED STOPPED BY ITS OWN BOARD

Directors Not Satisfied With Conduct Of Mr. Hin Wong, Editor

OPPOSED THE MILITARISTS

Ban To Continue Until Financial Support And Control Are Readjusted

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Feb. 1 (by mail).—The publication of the Canton Times, the only Canton daily published wholly in the English language, is being temporarily suspended, pending readjustment of its finance and control and on account of the withdrawal of its editor, Mr. Hin Wong, who was in charge of the paper since its first appearance in 1918.

The suspension was ordered by the journal's own Board of Directors, consisting of Dr. C. C. Wu, Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Military Government; Mr. Frank W. Lee, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs in Canton; Mr. H. Y. Loo, a department chief in the Foreign Ministry; and Judge Peter Hing, managing director of the company.

The political attitude of the Editor had been unsatisfactory to the Board for some time, and Mr. Wong's resignation, effective from January 19 was the inevitable outcome.

During the recent disturbance in Canton, the Canton Times was twice suspended by military order, and when the ban was lifted, a strict military censorship was enforced.

Mr. Wong, in order to keep the paper alive, had to work side by side with two military censors and publish communications forced into his office, although they were in his opinion unfavorable to the Cantonese cause.

Mr. Wong had been editing the Canton Times unaided since the latter part of September, and the paper, on its last appearance before the present suspension, was carrying an advertising and subscription list greater than at any period of its history.

Navy Census Board Supports Daniels On Warship Policy

(U. S. Naval Radio through Reuter)

Washington, February 5.—Battleships should remain the basis of naval power, and those asserting that the aeroplane and submarine are supplanting them are asking the country to accept hope in lieu of accomplishment, according to a report submitted by the Navy Census Board to the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Daniels, which was published today. Reiterating the belief that battleships should form the principle unit of the fleet, the report asserts that without them the United States cannot hope to cope with existing navies.

Continuance of the Naval policy of the United States, the report asserts, ought not to institute any naval building competition, and no other nation can take exception to such a position as it cannot justly be construed as a challenge. The policy of equal, or substantially equal, armaments, may well, in the end, diminish their growth and lessen the danger of sudden war in the future.

As in times previous to the war, the report continues, we shall in all probability have to rely solely upon our own state of preparedness. Pointing to the great growth of the American Merchant Marine, it emphasises the fact that no nation has ever been able to establish a large Merchant Marine without developing a navy to assist and protect it. It asserts that suspension of work on the present naval program for six months is neither necessary nor advisable.

Mr. Daniels has approved the report and forwarded it to the Naval Committee of the Senate.

ENGINEERS ARE PICKED TO WIN CUP TIE TODAY

Great Football Battle Today Will Aid St. Dunstan's Home For Blind

OTHER GAMES CARDED

Five Matches In Second Division Of League Will Be Played Today

By "Whistle"

There will be plenty of excitement this afternoon at the Engineers Cup Tie, but from the state of the ground for the last few days, the conditions are not very promising, the frost and snow have thoroughly worked into the surface and sun seems only strong enough to soften it. This will unfortunately tell against accurate football as the ball will be slippery and the foothold uncertain.

From the teams advertised, the engineers have a pretty good chance of lifting the Cup. Isherwood at half, Robertson and Wilson in the forward line are a big accession of strength, and on paper the engineers forwards appear the more aggressive line, it will be surprising if they do not manage to make things awkward for McLean at times.

Brown, Shaffer and Seredkin look like a good combination for the Club halves and may be trusted to upset a good many engineer aspirations. It will be interesting to see how Shaffer will enjoy himself facing Robertson after having played behind him so long.

Drake figures once again in the Club forwards and it is hoped he will show his old form. The S.F.C. want more shooting forwards, and want them badly, the opposing defence can always be trusted to mark Forshaw, and an inside forward who can and will shoot without waiting to see the whites of the goalkeeper's eyes, would enable Forshaw to get more shots in.

It will be a keen game anyway and on paper the Engineers should win by a narrow margin.

Those who watch the big battle today will have the privilege of helping St. Dunstan's Home for Blind Soldiers and Sailors. A detail of Boy Scouts will be at the field with boxes and the fans are cordially invited to contribute.

OTHER GAMES TODAY

In the second league there will be five games. The St. Francis Xaviers team hooks up with the Shanghai Football Club on the club's ground in the morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Boyling will referee.

The Saint's team will consist of L. Le tao, L. Horenstein, W. Favacho, A. Sequeira, J. Tordy. J. Mackenzie, H. Collaco, J. MacDonald J. Lena, A. Passos and F. Guttieres.

The football club eleven will be made up of H. Harris, A. Doonis, E. A. Brodie, J. E. R. Harris, C. Fuxman, A. A. Ewing. B. Lawrie Smith, S. Flood, W. C. G. Clifford, E. T. Nash, R. Tatum.

The other four game are to be played in the afternoon. The B. A. T. will play against the municipal electricity department at the Widow's Monument with Mr. Hampson refereeing.

The electricians will be represented by Patrick. Biggs, Day, Harris. Clarke. Brooks, Goodhind, Wright, Roach, Sm'th and Bidmead. Reserves: Withers and Levensfiel.

The Public School will play the Internationals in Hongkew Park at 2:45 o'clock. The referee will be Mr. Bridges. The line-up of the Internationals follow:

BUSH WINNER FROM PHILLIPS IN SEMI-FINAL

Will Fight Porter For Amateur Billiard Title; Plays Great Game

MAKES AVERAGE OF 12.1

Wins By Score Of 750 To 497; Gray Playing This Week At Clubs

E. D. Bush will fight it out with C. W. Porter for the amateur billiard championship of Shanghai and if he plays in the same form he displayed at the Marine Engineers Institute last night in the game against R. P. Phillips, Bush will give Porter a great battle. Bush defeated Phillips by a score of 750 to 497.

Bush played remarkable billiards last night. He was in rare form, making breaks of 64, 61, two 50's and several runs of 30 and 40. Bush scored 400 points in 70 minutes and at the end of two hours' play he led 630 to 391.

He made an average of 12.1 and his first 500 points embraced some wonderful billiards, making every sort of a shot with ease and finesse and giving the best exhibition of billiards seen in the tournament.

Let it be also understood that Phillips played an excellent game. His average was 8 and he made breaks of 32, 35 and 46. Phillips was overshadowed, that was all.

Bush his making his third attempt to secure Porter's crown and the match this year should be well worth watching.

GRAY TO PLAY

George Gray, the Australian billiard pro will play two matches this week—Thursday night at the Customs Club and Friday night at the French Club. Gray will give his lecture and make demonstrations of various shots at both clubs.

SOME NOTES ON THE NEW BRITISH ENGINE

NO detachable marine motors were produced in England before the war, but the need for them having arisen, it was decided to devote some time to devising an engine which would be an improvement on anything hitherto available. Not only was it necessary to meet the very exacting requirements of the British Admiralty, but to produce a machine capable of hard and constant work, while possessing that refinement in design and perfection in workmanship which are traditional in all British marine engineering. In consequence a new motor was designed in collaboration with the Admiralty engineers. The "Watermota" is the result, and one sees here the starboard view of the new engine.

JAPS SMUGGLING OPIUM IN HANKOW

Military Governor Breaks Up Operations Of Gang In Concession

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, February 1.—The Japanese Concession of Hankow was recently discovered to be the harboring place for opium smugglers and peace disturbers by official detectives of Military Governor Wang Chuan-yuan who raided the Japanese Concession last week to arrest smugglers of opium.

Besides arresting a gang of opium smugglers, the official detectives also found that opium smuggling business is being done in the Japanese Concession by Chinese and foreign smugglers with the approval and protection of certain policemen of the Japanese Police Station who receive for their service high salaries and commissions.

In one house at Set-Cheong Road, smugglers of this contraband article were discovered to be in league with those southern soldiers who are disturbing peace in western Hupeh district. They smuggle opium from Shihnan and district where they encourage opium cultivation to the Japanese Concession of Hankow, where they dispose of their opium easily. With the money from the sales of opium, they purchase ammunitions and arms for those southern forces in western Hupeh who have been attempting to invade this province.

The governors of Wuchang seem to be taking a firm stand against opium business, which is shown by two recent incidents. The superintendent of a certain government works was found guilty of smuggling opium and morphia by hiding the article in large boxes used for transporting soldiers' uniforms. He was ordered arrested by Tuchun Wang, who, when the official culprit was sent to his yamen from Hankow, trounced him severely with his whip, and released the latter only at the unanimous kneeling down of his underlings before him to plead for his life. Again, Civil Governor Hsia Shou-kang, with the view of eradicating the opium curse, has established a special anti-opium office in his administration to see to the effective carrying out of anti-opium regulations already promulgated.

Whatever strenuous efforts may be made by Chinese officials to suppress opium, it seems doubtful that such efforts will be fruitful as long as the authorities of the Japanese Concession of Hankow remain inert in the matter. Except a very few, practically all Chinese residents in that territory belong to this nefarious trade. Any newcomer in Hankow will, among the first things he learns of the place, be acquainted with the fact that the Japanese Concession is a place for opium business.

'The Case Of Lady Camber'

The Warwick Company produced "The Case of Lady Camber" at the Lyceum Theater last night. This play is adapted from the well-known novel "The Paladin" by Horace Annesley Vachell, and holds the interest of the audience from start to finish.

Mr. N. Thorpe-Mayne played the part of Dr. Harley Napier in a thoroughly convincing and masterly manner. We have seen him in other parts, and he is good in all, but we feel that this must be one of his favorite roles.

Miss Joan Mayne was the unhappy Nurse Esther Yorke, pursued unrelentingly by an episode in the past, and she played the part with charm and sweetness. She is delightful to watch at all times, and was at once in sympathy with her audience.

Miss Beatrix Wynn, in the name part of 'Lady Camber,' is an actress of the most arresting personality. Her part was all too short, and we could not have enough of this clever artiste. It is by no means easy to portray hysteria, and yet never lose grip of your audience, and Miss Wynn held the stage all the time that she was there.

Warm applause greeted the clever and amusing character part of 'Peach,' played by Miss Muriel Aked, who made the most of it. The part of 'Lord Camber' was played by Mr. Tom Fenwick in a rather colorless manner, and he did not seem particularly happy in this role. Mr. Frank Wheatley and Mr. Dudley Howarth took the parts of 'Sir Bedford Slutter' and 'Buckle' respectively. Miss Lena Flowerdew played the part of Lady Mathilda Rye in a stately manner in keeping with the role.

Contraband Found In Upper Silesia

French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Feb. 6.—The Agence Havas reports that another discovery of contraband war material has been made in Upper Silesia.

A closed goods wagon, purporting to contain food and chemical products and soap, was seized. It did contain: eight heavy machine-guns; 460 infantry rifles, of the model of 1898 but manufactured in 1920; 100,000 rifle cartridges; 2,500 hand-grenades and eight gas-bombs.

The rifles of last year's make, and the gas-bombs, which cannot be kept for over three months, are an example of how Germany is conforming to those clauses of the Peace Treaty which prohibit her from manufacturing war material.

ROYALISTS HAIL RESTORATION OF FORMER LEADER

Followers Of Chang Hsun Rush To Peking To Get Jobs Under Him

REFLECTS ON OFFICIALS

Chinese Journal Calls Them Sympathetic Toward Monarchists

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, February 4.—The Yi Shih Pao, of Tientsin, makes the following comment upon the re-entrance of Chang Hsun into official life:

"Immediately after his appointment as Director-General of the Bureau of Forestry and Land Cultivation in Jehol, Chang Hsun, the monarchist leader, appointed Mr. Kang Yu-wei, popularly known as the modern sage of China, one of his advisors. On learning of his appointment, many ex-officials of the former dynasty, who had been in Shanghai to spend the rest of their lives, have one and all left the port for Peking with a view to getting some job under Chang Hsun. In these two things, the character and personality of the so-called royalists can be best reflected.

"It is an old saying that a frog in a well does not knock the depth of the sea, and this means that because of the small environment in which it was brought up, its ideas are necessarily limited. Now the same is true with these royalists. They have been brought up in monarchist ideas, and taught to think that their legs were created for no other purpose than that of kneeling down before superiors. That they have no views of the world and that the idea of nationality is foreign to their mode of thinking, are matters which we can assert without the slightest fear of contradiction. Under these circumstances, who will not believe that once they get into the politiral arena, they will not attempt to overthrow the Republic for a second time?

"It is not too much to say that because of their plot to restore the Monarchy, they deserve the sentence of death. But the Government pardoned them against the nation-wide public opinion, and at that time, it was already predicted that sooner or latter, they would be reinstated. Now indeed, this prediction has come true, and we wonder what is the real motive of the Central Government behind the appointment of Chang Hsun. Some say that it could do nothing otherwise in the face of strong recommendation from a certain influential satrap. But this is at least not a good excuse. The Chief Executive being entrusted with the duties of administration by the whole people; should not plead non-responsibility because a certain line of action has been dictated by a certain influential personage. As a matter of fact, he should resist it if it is found to run counter to public opinion.

"If the present case can be considered as a criterion of the sincerity of the Government, then the conclusion is irresistable that the difference between the High Authorities and the monarchists is one between tweedledum and tweedledee. Should there be another restoration of the monarchy in the future, they cannot absolve themselves from responsibility."

Municipal Election Will Be Held 17-18

Offices To Be Open Tomorrow And Thursday To Receive Any Nominations

Announcement is made that the Secretary of the Municipal Council will be in the offices of the Council tomorrow and Thursday to receive nominations for the election for the council that will be held February 17 and 18. Indications are that the new governing body of the Settlement will be made up almost wholly, if not entirely, of new material.

Of the fifteen candidates elected in February, 1920, no less than five retired in the course of the year from one cause or another and with the appointment of their successors the membership of the present Municipal Council is as follows: Messrs. Brooke-Smith, Macintyre, Sakuraji, Mackay, Benjamin, Fessenden, Ransom, Girardet and Simms. Mr. Brooke-Smith is the single veteran administrator of this list as he is the only one who has seen more than one year's service.

Whether Mr. Brooke-Smith will consent again to become a candidate with the end that he continue to fill the post of Chairman of the council is a question that has not yet been definitely answered.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth, some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers consists in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filing with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

Philippine Products Idle; Slump Grows

Bankers In Islands Are Compelled To Restrict Loan Transactions

The depression in the Philippines continues to grow worse and bankers there are compelled to restrict their loan transactions as rigidly as possible. They do not accept any bills. According to a dispatch the result is the extreme tightness of the monetary situation in the islands.

The National Bank of the Philippines has been authorised by the Governor-General to increase the issue of notes and relieve the money market of its tension, but that corrective measure has not yet been made use of.

The accumulation of the islands' principal export commodities such as hemp, cocoanut oil, tobacco, sugar and others is also quite serious; the advance in exchange rates tending to augument it. Steamers calling at Manila are compelled to clear from the port without taking in any cargo. In the most fortunate cases the consignments made are very small and few. The stock of Manila hemp is, for instance, estimated at more than 350,000 bales.

The decline in the export trade has caused a similar decrease in the forwarding of cargo to ports from the places of production and as result a decline is being started in cargo forwarded from ports into interiors.

The decline in the interior trade has told on the carrying trade in the islands and no less than 30 percent of the total tonnage of coasting vessels in the islands is laid up at present. Shipowners there have adopted a measure of maintaining coasting rates and coping with the growing depression of their business.

First German Ship Arrives In Japan

Kleist, War Prize, Is First German Vessel To Reach Empire Since 1914

Kobe, January 29.—Captain G. W. Dring, piloting the steamship Kleist, one of the 13 merchantmen Germany is turning over to Japan, arrived here recently.

Captain Dring commanded the transport Sadow Maru during the Russo-Japanese War when that ship, together with the Hitachi Maru, was sunk by the enemy. During the rest of the war he was a prisoner of war in Russia. Throughout the Great World War he was in the British transport service.

The Kleist, 9,000 tons, is one of several merchantmen turned over to Japan by Germany as reparation in accordance with the Versailles Treaty. She is the first German ship making a Japanese port since the war. Her navigation was temporarily entrusted to the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, and it is expected that this company will continue the operation.

The Kleist is an excellent passenger boat, having accommodations for 100 passengers each in the first, second and third classes.

She will shortly be followed by the much larger liner Cape Finisterre, 18,000 tons, which will go to Yokohama from Germany direct. The latter ship will be commanded by Captain C. H. Butler, British skipper, who has for many years been on the Nippon Yusen Kaisha's European service.

The third ship is preparing to shortly sail from Germany to Japan, it is learned.

Japan's Indebtedness Y3,115,038,383.38

Various Increases Are Shown In Recent Report Of Finance Minister

Japan's total indebtedness reached Y3,115,038,383.38 at the end of 1920 against Y2,948,194,977.38 as at the end of November that year exclusive of Treasury Bills and extraordinary Exchequer Notes which were outstanding.

According to the Finance Department's report Japan's domestic obligations reached Y.1,686,744,850.50 against Y1,637,057,251 at the end of November last. There was an increase of Y49,687,599.50. This increase was principally caused by the flotation of 5 percent Exchequer Bonds by the government during December.

The total of foreign loans reached Y1,428,293,532.88 against Y1,311,137,726.38 at the end of November. This increase was caused by the government having taken over a Sterling Pound loan of the South Manchuria Railway Company during December.

Besides, there was the outstanding amount of Exchequer Notes to the amount of Y533,217,500. The outstanding amount of Treasury Bills amounted to Y30,000,000.

N.Y.K. IS TO BILL GOODS TO CANADA

Steamship Co. Agreement With Canadian Pacific Permits Through Shipping

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha has entered into an agreement with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company whereby a through bill of lading will be issued for goods destined for Canada. This new arrangement will be carried into effect, beginning with the Tokushima Maru, which sailed from Kobe on January 21.

The company has also arranged to make the Fushimi Maru, the Suwa Maru, the Katori Maru and the Kashima Maru call at Vancouver. Hitherto the call at this port has been confined to four ships of the T.-class, but the company has decided to extend it to the four freighters of large type above mentioned. This decision will come into effect beginning with the Kashima Maru, sailing February 6.

Facing The Facts

A READING of the telegrams which we publish today does not evoke any great hope of early peace and stabilisation of industry and exchange in Europe, but, as we have pointed out from time to time, no good end is served by the adoption of a pessimistic attitude towards events, which, after all, are only the natural outcome of the unparalleled upheaval through which the world has passed.

As Premier Lloyd George put it, to his Birmingham audience, his remarks applying to the British political and economic situation: "If you change the government you do not change the facts." Here we have the ineluctable logic of the situation all over Europe. That chaotic continent is engaged in a hand-to-hand grapple with the inexorable and relentless heritages of the Great War. This is true of the little nations as well as of the big ones. It is true of Italy, France, Great Britain, Austria.

Assuredly it is wholly true of Germany, Germany may change her government, but she cannot change the facts. She threatens to plunge into Bolshevism, into revolution; she threatens also to revert to a monarchy. She may even try all three, one after the other.

But none of them will change the facts that confront her. In only one way can these facts be altered. When you have burned your own or another man's house to the ground there is only one way of restoring it. You can't restore it by waving a gun or a sword at it, or by changing your form of government or religious worship. You have got to do it by work. Certainly you can't do it by printing bales of paper money, for paper money is not worth the paper it is printed on unless there lies behind it the will and the ability to work.

All that our present civilisation has to boast of is the work our forefathers performed; all art, all literature, all discoveries, inventions, sciences, industries—all represent work and nought else. And all that posterity will have to be prideful of on our account will be what we have added to the sum total of civilisation's knowledge and accomplishments, and we can only add to that sum total by work.

It is settled now that Germany must pay and Germany, as we have said, can only pay by work. But it is for Germany to remember as she pays that she is not the only one paying for what she did. The others too are paying part of Germany's bill—the part that Germany cannot now nor ever in the future pay. Germany cannot pay for the dead, the crippled, the widowed, the orphaned.

Even now, in the matter of material effort to revive and restore the ruined fortunes of Europe, the victorious Allies are making sacrifices greater and shouldering burdens more onerous than those of conquered Germany. The victors are more heavily taxed than the vanquished. But soon or late, Germany must face the facts. The Allies are agreed, and they have the power, to impose their will. And they have decided that Germany must pay. This is the principal fact which Germany is called upon to face.

CHINESE NEW YEAR

"Health, Wealth and Happiness!"

Today, Chinese, high and low, rich and poor are wishing each other the comprehensive "Health, Wealth and Happiness—or to try and put it into something like the sounds we hear in Shanghai "Kong-she-fa-dzee."

I asked a Chinese his impression of China New Year. His answer was short and very much to the point: "China New Year is the most national of all festivals; and it is very inconvenient."

Nothing very romantic in the answer, and so remembering that "Out of the mouths of babes," etc., I put my query to a Chinese boy, the son of a man whose father is accounted one of the greatest of his race. From this little student of English I got a glimpse of what goes on in the minds of those who have not yet become "educated" enough to be sceptical.

"What do you do on New Year's morning Peter?" I asked.

"We go out first thing and walk towards the South to meet the gods 'Fortune' and 'Luck;' these are very good gods; and then we walk North-east to meet the god of 'Dignity,' another good god. After that we go to visit our friends. My father, when he meets my uncle, 'chin chins' to him or to any other equal, but I am only a 'small' person, and so I must go on my knees and 'Kow Tow' three times to all my elder relatives—my goodness, it does make you tired. When I go to my aunt's house I see the pictures of my grandfather, who is dead, and I 'Kow Tow' four times before it, and also before pictures of other dead relatives.

"It is very good to do this. Good people go to heaven with the great God. My grandfather did a lot of good for China and so he is now in Heaven, a servant of God.

"Before the real China New Year day, the Kitchen God, that we keep in our kitchens, goes away and presents the number one God in Heaven an account of what the family has been doing during the year. If they have done bad things, and not paid their debts then the God is very angry; if they have done good things he is very glad. Of course the Kitchen God must come back on New Year's Eve."

"Do you put the Kitchen God out of the room while he is 'travelling?'"

"Oh, no; that is only an image of the Kitchen God. That is not real; it is just wood but it helps poor people to understand and everybody to remember. It is the spirit that goes up to God to report.

"On New Year's Eve you must not go out. Each family must all eat together and then watch all night to keep bad spirits away—you mustn't go to sleep—but if men work hard they cannot keep awake all night, and little children cannot keep awake; and so we light two big red candles—then we can go to bed or go out after eating, because, if the bad spirits come they will see the two candles burning and they will think they are two bright eyes always watching."

"Peter, why do the Chinese use crackers at New Year?"

"Oh, goodness, they have been doing that for thousands of years. Your foreign crackers only make one noise, but ours make two. I'll tell you why. The noise frightens away the bad spirits. The first bang comes on the grounds, then the cracker flies up and the next bang is in the air. Now this shows the bad spirits that both Earth and Heaven are against them. The Earth cries out for help and Heaven answers. Don't you understand?

"We make a noise with cymbals for the same reason, and then when all the bad is driven away we can start a good New Year. People must all pay their bills so that on New Year's Day everyone is happy, and no man owes any man and so is not afraid to say 'Kong-she-fa-dzee.'

"If a man cannot pay his bills he goes away on a trip, but he loses much face. When he comes back his creditors will not trouble him—no—not till next New Year."

"Why are the Chinese so pleased when it snows before New Year?"

"Oh, that is very good luck, and all the country people are very happy. It means that they will get plenty of good things from the ground. You see, snow is much better than rain. If a man drinks a whiskey and soda very quickly it will do him no good; but he will get indigestion; if he drinks it slowly it will make him warm. That is just like the rain and snow. The rain falls and rushes into the ground, and the buried seed cannot digest it all, but if the snow comes, it lies on the ground and warms it, and very slowly gives drink to the seed—and so the country people are happy, and so are we."

"I think that the number one God made the world to be a beautiful garden and in it the best flowers ought to be the men, women and children and so, just like the flowers all spring up fresh again in Spring, everyone should try to be very happy and beautiful because this is the beginning of our Spring."

America's $1,000,000,000 Foreign Trade Plan

(New York Times)

The Foreign Trade Financing Corporation, which is now being organised by a committee brought together under the auspices of the American Bankers' Association, the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Foreign Trade Council, marks a financial revolution through which the United States has passed.

Instead of being a debtor nation to the extent of four billions of dollars, as the United States was in 1914, this country has become the greatest creditor country.

At the organising meeting held in Chicago it was estimated that the total loans of the United States to foreigners, including both Government and private financing, amounted to $15,000,000,000, and "enabled us to pass Great Britain as the leading creditor nation of the world." The world's financial center of gravity has been shifted to the United States. We are now, as Herbert Hoover said, in the position which Great Britain occupied as far back as 1860. We produce potentially more than we can consume. It is necessary to devise some method of enabling foreigners to buy our commodities if full-time work is to be provided for farmers, laborers or business men. Mr. Hoover said that as Great Britain had formerly so must the United States now be prepared to invest abroad some part of the surplus that we would export.

That is the purpose which the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation is being founded to serve. If it succeeds, again in the words of Mr. Hoover, "the project will be the work of the most momentous economic conference since the armistice." The actual technique through which the projected trading corporation will finance the exportation of American products is not yet worked out. Concerning the general methods to be employed, a member of the organising committee said day before yesterday:

"The far-reaching conception of a great national corporation for the financing of foreign trade with a capital of $100,000,000 was approved in Chicago on Dec. 10 and 11 by a meeting of 500 bankers, producers and business men from every meeting, representing nearly all of the diverse elements of our commercial structure, approved the plan proposed to it, with a feeling of contributing to a momentous development in our economic history that no one who attended the meeting could doubt, and the committee appointed by it is now at work.

SELLING SURPLUS PRODUCTS

"The Foreign Trade Financing Corporation—the name tentatively adopted for the projected institution—is planned for the immediate task of enlisting a part of the surplus wealth of the nation in the alleviation of its present foreign trade difficulties. The corporation is planned beyond that, as an organisation of great resources, national in its scope and control and capable of pointing the way in our future foreign trade development, as the Federal Reserve system has in domestic trade.

"We face in the United States a great surplus of production above the demands of our domestic market, and an inability to export it. This is due to the fact that our producers cannot sell on a long-term payment basis, and Europe, our principal market, not yet back to full production, and handicapped by adverse exchange, cannot buy on a short-term basis. The plan is to organise the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation with a capital stock of $100,000,000 and an ability under the terms of the law to issue debentures up to $1,000,000,000. The plan is to have the stock offered widely to banks, business and producing interests in every section of the country; the Board of Directors is to be made as representative as possible of all these interests and all the elements in our commercial organisation concerned with foreign trade; and the institution is to operate with the prestige of this national representation and interest under the supervision of the Federal Reserve Board, in the interests of no one bank or group of banks, no one producer or group of producers, but for all.

"When the stringency of our present situation is alleviated, we must face another problem. We must enter the vigorous competition in the markets of the world returning with the rehabilitation of Europe, and hold our place against nations of long experience in export trade, equipped with a thoroughly unified organisation to handle it. Against the system of a nation such as England in the conduct of its foreign commerce, for example, we must pit our own abilities, if our surplus production is to be taken care of and we are to develop. Where we have been haphazard we must have intelligent and definite plans.

EDUCATING THE PUBLIC

"Among the first duties of the new organisation would be the inauguration through every channel possible of a campaign of education on the value and responsibilities of foreign trade.

"It would be in an unusual position to do these things. It would have the prestige of great resources and national authorisation with which to draw on the most highly trained personnel, and it would have to assist it in educating the friendly attitude of some of the largest and most important business associations in the country.

"It has the friendly attitude of the American Bankers' Association, with its membership of over 22,000 banks. It has the expressed helpful attitude of a number of the States bankers' associations, many of the officers of which have indicated their readiness to help it. It has the sympathetic interest of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, with its constituent membership of 700,000. It has the encouraging attitude of the National Foreign Trade Council, the American Manufacturers' Export Association, the American Exporters and Importers' Association, and it has the almost universal public opinion that we must extend long-time credits to those of other nations who can safely and wisely borrow from us and use the proceeds in purchasing American goods.

"The manner in which this education will serve in the general development of a sound and complete system for the conduct of our foreign trade has already been mentioned. The primary function of the new corporation would be to lay the financing of American foreign trade before the American people; its broadest achievement would be to educate them to the necessity of foreign trade and the means by which it can be successfully pursued.

"The course of our commercial development during the war demands action on the part of every business man and banker on a great and comprehensive scale. To meet the need of the warring countries and of the countries usually supplied by those at war our exports were greatly increased from 1914 to 1918, the excess of exportation over importation was financed by the Government. With the withdrawal of Government support, trade continued through financing by banks and exporters; but these are coming to the end of their ability in this direction, the surplus is backing up in our ports and warehouses, there is retrenchment in production and depression is facing us. Adequate credit facilities alone can stave this off for the present and maintain for us our position in the markets of the world.

"Later on, when the more complete recovery of the European countries makes us feel the full force of their competition, we shall need the consideration of other elements in a comprehensive plan. Our merchant marine, routes of communication, the facilities for underwriting marine insurance, are all essential factors in the organisation of a nation for foreign competition.

"We shall need a systematic and unified policy, in the development of which a powerful foreign trade institution capable of leading and crystallising the business and financial sentiment of the country will be invaluable.

EUROPE OUR BEST CUSTOMER

"There are heard objections sometimes to dealing with the people of Europe, as though they, hard hit by a prolonged and costly war, were hopeless derelicts among the nations. Nothing could be more short-sighted. For generations they have been the chief foreign customers of our manufacturers and merchants, and from all present indications they will continue as such for generations to come. They need our goods badly now. In spite of the postwar problems with which they are confronted, there remains in Europe more than sufficient strength to support our financing of exports to its countries."

John McHugh, Chairman of the Organising Committee, added:

"It is only by facing the situation actively and boldly that we can maintain our position in foreign markets and our prosperity and take the full share that it is ours to take in the responsibilities of the world. The Foreign Trade Financing Corporation is a great co-operative effort of the banks, the business, the producers of the United States in this direction."

Members of the committee are: John McHugh, New York, Chairman; Herbert Hoover, Palo Alto, Cal., Paul M. Warburg, New York; John S. Drum, San Francisco; J. B. Forgan, Chicago; F. O. Watts, St. Louis, Mo.; Lewis E. Pierson, New York; Charles H. Sabin, New York; Arthur Reynolds, Chicago; John R. Howard, Clemons, Ia., Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago; Fred I. Kent, New York; J. G. Try Hypnotism On Your Husband To Keep His Love Advises Cleo De Merode

BY CLEO DE MERODE

Paris, December 31.—Many women go through life neither loving nor being loved because they lack the necessary mesmeric qualities by which they can not only influence others but can also influence themselves.

Hypnotism, in the last analysis, is merely strength of character. It depends, therefore, upon the strength of a woman's character as to whether the love she inspires will be lasting or not.

Love, however, never lasts forever any more than any trance lasts forever. But by carefully training her hypnotic faculties a woman can make a man love her much longer than he otherwise would. And in the process she would be mesmerising herself into loving him.

Sometimes a week-minded woman finds great happiness with a man; but in such a case, if the love is genuine, it will be found that the man has an overmastering character which overcomes the woman's natural resistance. In such a case the man is exercising the commonest form of hypnotism.

The most perfect form of love is invariably found between two strong-willed characters who, although apparently on opposite peaks of intellect, subconsciously attract each other by the mysterious undercurrent of hypnotism, which plays the most important part in human nature.

HUGO AN EXAMPLE

Two such lovers were Victor Hugo and his wife. Though both strayed from the domestic fold, though both had affinities, their letters and their works remain to prove that their wedded life was a series of "fallings in love" with each other. This was because they were physically and mentally so strongly attracted mutually that, as soon as the effect of one "trance" wore off, they would fall into another.

A great many qualities go into a woman's hypnotic make-up. Beauty may be necessary or it may not. A woman of extraordinary force of character may easily hold a man enslaved even though physically she be repellant, and the same—as can be proved by innumerable instances—applies to a man.

How often do you hear someone, say, referring to a friend's husband:

"I can't for the life of me understand why she married him."

The whole mystery of love lies in the fact that a quality that may hypnotise one nature would absolutely unaffect another.

Two things commonly mistaken for love have not the slightest relation to hypnotism. One is passion, which is the animal reaction on the physical sense, and the other is infatuation, which is usually caused by an appeal to the baser intellect.

By far the majority of marriages which end unhappily do so because the contracting parties were never in love, but merely infatuated or infected with the deadly microbe of animalism, mis-named passion.

SHOULD TEST POWERS

In my opinion every engaged pair before taking the great stride into the country of marital life should consult a competent psycho-analyst to find out whether their love is really genuine or not.

By testing their respective powers of hypnotism and by acquiring a summary of their likes and dislikes the analyst could easily tell whether they were really in the hypnotic trance which is called love, and on which true happiness is based, or whether they were subject to one of the great illusions.

It frequently happens that a sordid marriage for money may turn out to be a love match solely because of unsuspected hypnotic qualities in either the husband or wife, or perhaps both.

By carefully cultivating her mesmeric adaptability any mother can ensure a happy married life for her daughter. Care should be taken first of all to obtain a clear insight into the already-formed desires of the child. Sexual impulses should be encouraged in some and sternly repressed in others.

The cultivation of beauty should be systematic from an early age, for nothing induces nobility of soul so much as an inherent love of things beautiful. It is for that reason that when I was asked last year by a committee of French society leaders to undertake the training of their children in order to bring back the forgotten graces of long ago I demanded first that I be given an absolutely free hand to train the children as I saw fit.

TEACH CLEANLINESS

When this was granted I began by teaching the children that the first requisite to future happiness is the cult of cleanliness. Care of the body, I tell them, is the most important single thing in life.

I teach my little girls that their bodies are given them by the Creator on trust, to be molded after His designs. I teach them that the human form is the most beautiful of created things and should never be defiled or allowed to become gross.

By a series of exercises my little pupils, in loose tunics harmonising in color and outline with that of their bodies, are shown how to keep themselves physically fit.

The texture and firmness of their skin is carefully looked after, and I always prescribe regular milk baths wherever possible as conducing to that soft and "peach-blossom" texture so charming in a woman.

My complexion has not changed in twenty years, neither have I aged in appearance in that time. This I attribute solely to the systematic taking of exercise, hard work, constant brain study—and the absolute shunning of all sorts of so-called beautifyers.

If every girl child were taught from the beginning to take proper care of her body complexion creams, powders and rouges would soon fall into disuse. The fact that a woman has to use rouge is often a confession of poor health, or a badly-treated body.

EARLY REQUISITES

Color values, taste and a musical ear are all things which should be developed before a girl-child has reached eight years of age. Personally I was taught to appreciate the purity of texture of my own body by sleeping between black silk sheets. I do not advise this for every woman, however, as if there is the smallest physical defect it will spoil the sense of perfection and induce melancholia instead of the high spirits which invariably come when one's soul is saturated in a sense of one's own beauty.

Above all, the first essential to the cultivation of the special sense of hypnotism called love is the entire absence of self-consciousness, which is a destroyer of both outward and inward beauty. More wrinkles are caused by self-consciousness than by any other sort of worry.

In conclusion I would like to warn those who are marrying for true love not to be surprised nor downhearted should it become apparent after a few years that their mate's love is dimming. It is only the first trance wearing off. If you still possess the same attractions, physical and otherwise, for each other, there is no reason why other trances should not follow until you die.

Do not rush to a divorce court as soon as the first ardor of your husband cools! Wait a little while and you will see his love return in all the ecstatic freshness of early married days.
